

New Invasion Of Continent Is Predicted By Churchill

By E. C. DANIEL
London, Sept. 21 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill declared today that the second front will be thrown open "at the right time" and "a mass invasion of the continent from the west will begin."

Calling the Mediterranean battlefield the "Third Front," the Prime Minister told Commons that the second front "already exists potentially" and "already is rapidly gathering weight. * * * The second front exists and is a main preoccupation already with the enemy."

"It has not yet been thrown into play," he continued. "That time is coming."

"At what we and our American Allies judge to be the right time this front will be thrown open and a mass invasion of the continent from the west will begin."

Mussolini Failed
Surveying the whole sweep of the war with serene confidence Churchill also declared:

1. Not a moment was lost needlessly in the operations against Italy and except for the failure of Italian guards to do their assigned duty Benito Mussolini would have been shot when Hitler's agents rescued him at Gran Sasso.

2. American forces have landed on the Island of Sardinia to assist Italian troops who drove the German garrison over to Corsica, now being occupied by French units.

3. A tripartite conference of representatives of the United States, Britain and Russia will take place "at an early date" and no question will be barred from discussion. Any differences will be set aside for a conference of President Roosevelt, Premier Stalin and the Prime Minister himself.

French Ready
4. The Allies are prepared to place large armies in Italy and to deploy a weighty and active fighting front against the enemy on whatever line he chooses, if need be through the fall and winter.

5. A French Army of 300,000 to 400,000 is being steadily organized and the battleship Richelieu will soon take its place in the French fleet.

Speaking of the prospect of a Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin conference, the Prime Minister said:

"No meeting during this war could carry with it so much significance for the future of the world as a meeting between the heads of the three governments for without close, cordial and lasting association between Soviet Russia and their great Allies we might find ourselves at the end of the war only to have entered upon a period of deepening confusion."

Surrender a Windfall
"The Italian surrender was a windfall," he said, "but it had nothing to do with the date of harvesting the orchard."

Churchill went to the Houses with one of the longest speeches of his career. He began at noon and broke off an hour and a quarter later for lunch, after which he resumed speaking.

He termed the Salerno invasion the "most daring amphibious operation we have yet launched or which I think ever has been launched on a similar scale in the war."

He explained that the Allies could not have gone farther north unless they had dispensed with aid from shore-based aircraft—a fact which the Germans must have known.

Even in this landing, he said, Allied forces were dependent "to an important extent" upon carrier-borne aircraft in which the Allies

OFFICIAL COUNT CONFIRMS ALL PRIMARY RACES

With the exception of 37 soldiers' ballots, which will be counted Friday, the official count of the primary elections held September 14 was completed Monday afternoon by special clerks selected by the county court.

The totals found for the county offices were practically the same as the unofficial count published the day after the primaries.

The official count found many ties for township and borough offices, with most to be settled by lot on October 1. A few of the ties may be broken when the soldiers' ballots are counted, court house officials said.

SECOND COUNTY SCHOOL CLOSES

The lack of teachers caused by the war forced the closing of the second county school this year when the Reading township school board, at a special meeting Monday evening voted to close Hoover's school in that township until victory.

There were only 14 pupils enrolled in the school, which had the smallest enrollment of all of the schools in the township. The children were assigned to Hampton, Victory and Roundhill schools in the township and about eight will be taken in the Reading township school bus to the East Berlin grade schools. Arrangements were made by the board with C. E. Mummett, owner of the bus, to drive the youngsters to East Berlin.

Miss Margie K. Moul, teacher at Hoover's school for the first three weeks of the present school term, was assigned to teach Victory school, which was without a teacher Monday because of the resignation of John L. Stock. Mr. Stock had been elected to teach mathematics and science in the York Springs high school. Mrs. Moul will begin to teach Victory school Thursday.

Victory school will remain closed until that time, while Hoover's school will remain open until Thursday in order that all of the parents can be notified of the change of schools and arrangements can be completed for transferring the pupils to the bus.

New shipment of winter sports coats, $18.95 to $45.00, Virginia Myers, Baltimore Street.

Hershey Co. Bond Is Credited Here

The Hershey Creamery company has purchased a $5,000 bond in the name of three of its employees at its Biglerville plant with the credit for the sale going toward Adams county's campaign quota, it was announced today by Mrs. B. G. Walter, women's campaign chairman for Biglerville, who handled the sale.

The purchase was made by Cyril J. Long, a Hershey company executive. His name and those of two other company employees, Guy Hartzell and Robert Wentz, Biglerville, were placed on the bond.

PAUL SPANGLER IS COMMANDER OF LEGION POST

Paul L. Spangler, finance officer for the Albert J. Lentz post of the American Legion for the last two years, was named commander of the post at the annual election Monday evening. He succeeds C. Arthur Brame.

Wilbur A. Geiselman was elected first vice commander; Howard Strausbaugh, second vice commander; Paul M. Rohrbach, adjutant; James Howe, finance officer; Curvin Krout, chaplain; William Allison, historian; Russell Shetter and Raymond Fridinger, sergeants at arms, and William E. Timmins, trustee.

The new commander enlisted in the U. S. Navy, July 3, 1918, and served at League Island and Jefferson hospital, Philadelphia, as a hospital apprentice, first class. He was released in April, 1919, and served on the inactive list until 1922. He completes the second of two terms as finance officer this year and was finance officer of the post for two terms several years ago. He was also treasurer of the house committee this year.

All of the elections were by acclamation with Thomas George, other candidate for the commander's post, withdrawing before the election and Alfred Myrick, third candidate for sergeant at arms, also withdrawing.

Buy $3,000 Bonds
The Legion post voted to purchase $3,000 worth of war bonds.

It was announced that the total membership as of Monday night is 253, five more than last year. The post began today its 1944 drive for members.

The new officers probably will be installed October 4, if arrangements can be made for Stanton D. House, district commander, to be present to induct the men, it was announced. About 50 members attended Monday's session with Commander Brame presiding.

FRUIT FARM SOLD

Glen W. Riggall has sold his 40-acre fruit farm in Franklin township, two miles southwest of Cash-town, to Major Corvan S. Bryan, Washington, D. C. Possession will be given at once. C. A. Heiges made the sale.

WILL IS FILED

The will of John A. Schwartz, late of Union township, has been entered at the court house. Bessie K. Bupp, Charles H. Strausbaugh and Carrie Flickinger are executors of the $3,500 estate.

NAME CAMP FOR GEN. REYNOLDS

Greenville, Pa., Sept. 21 (AP)—The Army's Shenango Personnel Replacement depot today was designated as Camp Reynolds in honor of Maj. Gen. John Fulton Reynolds, a Pennsylvanian who lost his life in the battle of Gettysburg.

Announcement of the new name for the northwestern Pennsylvania post was made by Col. Zim E. Lawton, commanding officer, after official notification from Washington.

"It is the only military installation in the state bearing the name of a Pennsylvanian who made the supreme sacrifice," he said.

Gen. Reynolds was born in Lancaster, Pa., Sept. 20, 1820, and was graduated from West Point in 1841. He was promoted to major for gallantry in action in the Mexican war, and in 1859 he was named commandant of cadets at West Point.

He commanded the first corps of the Army of the Potomac in the Civil war battles of Fredericksburg and Gettysburg, and was killed early in the latter engagement.

$760,744.50 Bond Sales

Forty-six thousand three hundred and sixty-one dollars were lopped off Adams county's Third War Bond drive quota of $2,134,100 by bond buyers on Monday, the tabulating committee announced today.

Monday's sales leaves an unsold balance of $1,373,355.50 to be sold before midnight of September 30 if Adams county is to reach its quota goal.

Sales to date total $760,744.50.

The more than two hundred volunteer workers are "shooting" at the million dollar mark as their objective for Wednesday. This means that they will have to sell $239,255.50 today and tomorrow to reach that goal.

Several issuing agencies did not report their sales of Monday and have announced that they will have substantial reports to make on Wednesday.

Pennsylvania has reached 61 per cent of its quota with sales totaling $655,044,000. $276,000,000 worth of bonds were sold in Philadelphia and $202,000,000 sold in Allegheny county, the Pittsburgh area.

Throughout the country sales totaled $10,745,000,000.

MAY TRANSFER SHOW TICKETS

The curtain will rise promptly at eight o'clock tonight in the high school auditorium for the musical revue "See Here, Mr. Smith" presented by members of the Carlisle Medical Barracks to stimulate sales of war bonds in the Third War Bond campaign.

It was announced today by the committee in charge of the show that anyone holding a reserved seat ticket (and all seats are reserved) may give his ticket to someone else if he is unable to attend the presentation. However, it was explained that only those with reserved seat tickets will be admitted. A receipt showing purchase of a bond does not entitle the holder to admission to the auditorium. Bond holders eligible to admission must exchange their receipt for a reserved seat ticket before presenting themselves at the auditorium.

Post war development for vast untouched areas in the Amazon valley of Brazil similar to that in our own middle and far west in the last century was predicted by Jader T. de Rezende, an employee of the Brazilian government, in a talk Monday evening before the members of the Gettysburg Lions club.

Mr. de Rezende, a forestry department specialist, who is in this country to give special attention to soil erosion control methods and forestry practices, described his country as the largest American republic covering half the area of South America.

Fostered Pan-Americanism
He described the agricultural products that come from this vast area that is largely free from climatic extremes. Coffee is the chief product with scientists seeking synthetic product markets for the surplus which often in the past has been burned. Cotton and sugar are the next ranking farm products, he said.

The speaker referred to the vast mineral wealth of Brazil—much of it yet undeveloped. He said the Brazilian government is launching a program to double production of rubber latex.

Primary education is compulsory and free, the clubmen heard, while the speaker pointed out that his country has also sought to promote Pan-Americanism and good relations between the nations of the western hemisphere, especially the United States.

The South American was introduced by D. E. Hess, Lion program chairman. Hess, as county representative of the U. S. Forestry Service, has been guiding Mr. de Rezende through the county for the last two weeks on an inspection of soil erosion and forestry projects.

Plans were announced for a Ladies' Night dinner meeting next Monday evening at the Mt. Joy Lutheran parish house where the ladies of the church will serve a fried chicken dinner.

Twenty-seven Lions and guests attended Monday's session at Mrs. Smith's restaurant.

SCOUT REPORT PRESENTED TO ROTARY CLUB

A talk on the "Molly Maguires" in labor disturbances in the mining areas of Pennsylvania during the latter part of the 19th century by Dr. J. Walter Coleman and a report on the activities of Boy Scout Troop 77 featured Monday evening's meeting of the Rotary club at the YWCA.

A rating of "excellent" was given Scoutmaster Jack Cessna for his work by the Rotary-Lions committee in charge of the troop, according to the report read by Vernon B. Corle. The report covers the second year of the troop's activities. Thirteen new scouts were enrolled during the past year, bringing the number of scouts in the troop during the year to 25. Seventeen of the scouts are re-registering for the coming year and eight have separated from the troop, the report showed.

Bond Drive Appeal

Three assistant scoutmasters, William R. McClell, Clayton Warman and Norman Cessna have been inducted into the armed services. During the past year the troop held 49 regular meetings, one special meeting and two Parent's Nights. Fourteen hikes and outings have been held since January 1, including a commando hike during which members of the troops climbed cliffs by means of ropes, built bridges and performed other commando tactics and a signaling hike in which one group signaled a message in Morse code from Wolf hill to the roof of the Cessna home on Baltimore street, a distance of over a mile.

The troop won first place in the Black Walnut district rally and took part in an intertroop camp with Troop 78 for three days in May. Seven scouts were advanced from tenderfoot to second class, one from second to first class, one from

Girl Scouts Add 4 New Members

Sixty sets of rosary beads have been repaired by the Caroline Codori girl scout troop and were shipped today to the Chaplain's Aide society, New York. Miss Mary Ramer, head of the troop, has announced.

Four new members were inducted into the organization at a meeting Monday evening at St. Francis Xavier school. They included Joan Stock, Doris Sanders, Helen Cole and Betty McClell. Miss Grace Myers, a first class scout, was elected assistant lieutenant.

175 COUNTIANS CALLED AS R.C. BLOOD DONORS

One hundred seventy-five Adams countians were mailed appointment cards, Monday, for the ninth visit of the Red Cross Blood Donor unit from Harrisburg in Gettysburg Friday afternoon. A large proportion of the donors will be giving blood for the second, third and fourth times.

With additional refrigerators now available to the Harrisburg center, the daily capacity at the local station in the College Lutheran church basement will be increased from 120 to about 135 pints, it was announced today.

Appointments start at noon and run throughout the afternoon until about 4:30 o'clock. The usual staff of trained nurses, nurse's aides, other Red Cross staff workers and a Navy doctor will be on duty.

The York Springs Red Cross group headed by Mrs. E. E. Nell will serve in the kitchen, Friday. The Rock Top Red Cross unit from Cashtown will be in charge of the dining room with Mrs. Charles E. Kuhn and Mrs. Dale Bream in charge.

Growing Need for Plasma
Additional calls for new donors and a renewal of the plea that persons given appointments either turn up at the station or give advance notice that they will be unable to do so were sounded today.

Seminary students are being enrolled this week on the Donor list.

National Red Cross has emphasized the greatly increased need for blood plasma in the face of the Italian operations and the impending invasion. Such tragedies as the recent railroad accidents in which many were injured made additional calls upon Red Cross stocks of blood plasma, Red Cross workers here have been advised.

BRAZILIAN IS SPEAKER FOR LIONS' CLUB

HOLD DISTRICT COURT OF HONOR FOR BOY SCOUTS

Nineteen first class merit badges were given scouts of the Black Walnut district at the September Court of Honor Monday evening at Biglerville. Seven scouts received badges for having successfully completed the requirements for tenderfoot, second class and first class badges.

Pvt. Harold K. Trout, of the local state police spoke on his experiences in Persia while working there several years ago and showed various objects, including a camel bell and a sword which he had brought back from that country.

Many Awards
Ten merit badges were awarded to Jack Cessna, scoutmaster of Troop 77. Among the badges were pathfinding, pioneering, conservation, astronomy, handicraft, forestry, weather, firemanship, safety and aviation. Sydney Poppay, Jr., also of Troop 77, was awarded pathfinding and stamp collecting badges while William H. Snyder, son of Justice of the Peace and Mrs. Robert P. Snyder was awarded a pathfinding merit badge. Two members of Troop 78 also were given merit badges, Donald Doersom for handicraft, reading and aviation, and Francis Steimour for reading, horsemanship and handicraft.

Sydney Poppay and William Snyder were awarded their first class scout emblems while John M. Ridinger, Bruce A. Westerdahl and William Ziegler won second class badges. All are members of Troop 77. William Bushman, of Troop 77, and Harold Garrettson were awarded tenderfoot badges. The awards were presented to the scouts by Donald P. McPherson, Jr., Esq., and Dr. Frederick Tilberg of the court of honor.

CLUB LEADER DIES

Mrs. John S. Bennett, 55, superintendent of the Washington, D. C. Central Union, died late Sunday evening after a long illness. Mrs. Bennett, who was a former president of the federation of Soroptimist clubs, spoke here several years ago at an anniversary meeting of the local Soroptimists.

Local Eagles Buy $10,000 War Bond

Officers of the Gettysburg Aerie No. 1652 of the Fraternal Order of Eagles announced today that lodge has purchased an additional $10,000 in war bonds bringing the total sum the local unit has invested in U. S. bonds to $22,000.

The Gettysburg Eagles, who have 75 members serving in the armed forces with their lodge dues kept in good standing by the organization, have reached a new membership peak of 978. This is the largest membership the aerie has ever had, James B. Aumen, secretary, said today.

The lodge also has donated $25 toward the fund for the purchase of a stand of colors for the Adams county unit of the Pennsylvania Minute Men.

TIN SHIPMENT FROM COUNTY NETS $132.89

Net profits from the carload of tin recently shipped by the Gettysburg salvage committee to a detinning plant near Pittsburgh were $132.89, Dr. J. Walter Coleman, chairman of the local committee, reported at a meeting of the group at the YWCA Monday evening.

The tin amounted to 31,040 pounds, or 13,857 long tons, and the committee was paid $15.50 a ton, Doctor Coleman said. Three other communities will be given their pro rata share of the net profit, with Biglerville furnishing 8,400 pounds of the tin, East Berlin, 6,000 pounds, and Littlestown, about 500 pounds. The gross income for the tin was $214.78 and freight charges were $81.89.

Three days' work by the local firemen in cleaning out unfit tin cans that were either not properly processed, rusty, or had contained varnish, oil or similar substances, brought the county a letter of appreciation from the company for the "clean" tin it had sent, Doctor Coleman stated. Only one per cent of "dirty" cans was found by the detinning company. The local firemen removed several truckloads of unusable cans before shipping the tin, it was stated.

To Ship Stockings
Mrs. J. P. Dalbey reported that she had received a number of shipments of silk and nylon stockings and that arrangements were being made to ship all of the stockings available by the end of this month to end the drive for stockings.

Richard C. Lighter, acting county salvage chairman, reported that tin cans are one of the big needs for the next six months in salvage and also announced that the county firemen will meet Thursday to complete arrangements for taking over the county salvage committee activities.

The Gettysburg group voted to offer their services to the firemen as soon as arrangements are made for the firemen to assume the salvage duties.

SALVAGE DRIVE AT 6 TONIGHT

Because of the early darkness this month's scrap drive, scheduled for this evening, will start at 6 o'clock, Vernon B. Corle, chairman of the firemen's committee in charge, said today.

Six trucks will make the tour of Gettysburg starting at 6 o'clock this evening. Three of the trucks will be fire engines while the remainder have been provided by J. E. Codori, R. W. Wentz and Mr. Corle.

All manner of metal scrap are needed during the current drive which will bring to an end the current campaign, Mr. Corle stated. A new salvage drive will begin in October.

Among the list of articles needed for the war effort are tin cans, all old iron, brass, copper and other metal scrap, newspapers, magazines and heavy brown paper.

The firemen have asked that the articles be placed on the curb prior to 6 o'clock so that collection can be made efficiently. It was also stated that if there are any salvage articles in basements or attics that are too heavy for the householder to carry, there will be enough firemen with the trucks to remove the salvage. Anyone wishing the firemen to carry the heavy articles should report that fact to the firemen as the trucks pass along the streets.

ALLIES SLOWLY DRIVING NAZIS BACKWARD FROM SALERNO FRONT

By NOLAND NORGAARD
Allied Headquarters in North Africa, Sept. 21 (AP) — American Liberators threw new weight into the conquest of Italy by bombarding the historic Port of Venice as French troops and native guerrillas proceeded today to mop up German resistance on Corsica and the U.S. Fifth Army registered new gains in the Salerno beach head.

Slowly and steadily pressing the Germans backward, the Fifth Army stormed and took the key town of Eboli, sixteen miles inland, which had served the enemy as a communications center during last week's heavy fighting about Salerno.

General Mark W. Clark's soldiers also battered their way to Montecorvino, nine miles inland, in a sustained push, an official source disclosed.

Avoid Trap
A military spokesman also announced that the Germans are swinging the lower end of a line which formerly enclosed the Salerno bridgehead to the north and east to avoid being trapped by the continued rapid advance of the British Eighth Army.

The Germans are using infantry supported by small groups of tanks to fight a delaying action in the Eboli area and the Fifth Army also was reported encountering elaborate minefields and demolitions in its slow but continued advance north of Salerno.

German prisoners were quoted in official reports from the front as giving eloquent testimony of the devastating effect of incessant Allied air attacks on retreating German columns.

Blast Railways
Cairo headquarters, reporting the bombing of Venice, said one explosion caused there was followed by a column of smoke 5,000 feet high but the full results of the attack were obscured by clouds.

Liberators based on the Middle East also hit railway yards and bridge approaches at the Adriatic port of Pescara.

(It was announced officially at Cairo, also, that the RAF had extended Allied air domination of the Mediterranean by landing on and starting operations from the Italian Dodecanese island of Coo.

Coo is 50 miles northwest of German-occupied Rhodes, largest island capital of the Dodecanese group in the Aegean sea. It is about five miles from Turkey. The Italian personnel of Coo is cooperating in the occupation, the communique said.

New Air Bases
It gives the Allies an airbase in the very center of the Dodecanese group and on the north side of the Nazi Mediterranean outpost of Crete.

A few days ago, it was announced that the Italians had taken over the island of Lero, some distance north of Coo.

Most of Corsica's Italian garrison of about 40,000 men has joined native guerrillas and French troops landed from fast French warships in a fight to wipe out the German forces on the island, an official announcement said today.

The announcement, issued by the Allied naval command, declared that French destroyers of the latest design, which are among the world's fastest warcraft, had dashed into Ajaccio harbor with troops and supplies after a first visit was paid by a French submarine. This submarine joined the French navy after a daring flight from a French port last November.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Mrs. Theron Clabaugh, Taneytown; Dale Kanagy, Gettysburg R. 3; Mrs. Crist Slaybaugh, Aspers, and Mrs. Franklin Valentine, Taneytown, have been admitted as patients to the Warner hospital. Mrs. Lester Myers and infant daughter, Phyllis Marie, Dillsburg, has been discharged as patients.

Property Transfers

William F. and Gladys M. Miller, Wrightsville, sold to Leo H. and Virginia E. Ecker, New Oxford, a lot on Pleasant street, New Oxford.

John M. and R. Irene Boyd, Mt. Pleasant township, sold to Paul H. and Mary V. Sneider, same place, a 58-acre property in that township.

RUMOR ABOUT MARSHALL HAS AIRED SERIOUS WAR PROBLEMS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

It seems logical to wonder whether the authoritative Army and Navy journal hasn't opened the closet door on a rather grim international skeleton by its sensational assertion that powerful interests would like to remove Chief of Staff General George C. Marshall from the Washington scene.

"Acting under the President's instructions," explains the journal, "the (Marshall) has labored zealously to insure the fullest measure of co-operation with our allies and especially the British, a policy based on the President's and his own appreciation of the necessity of safeguarding American interests."

Thinking only of winning the war in the shortest time and of saving every American life possible, in connection with the bloody operations which it calls for, General Marshall, of course, has come into conflict with powerful interests which would like to eliminate him from the Washington picture, and place in his stead an officer more amenable to their will."

Quickest Way To Victory
That's a nasty picture. Who are these powerful interests? The journal leaves it to us to figure it out for ourselves. The general public has learned of only one difference of opinion between Marshall and critics.

The chief of staff is said to have held firmly to the conviction that western Europe should be invaded directly from England. Other strategists, particularly those on the British side of the table, have frowned on cross-channel invasion. Timing of the drive also is said to have caused some discussion.

Well, it certainly is interesting to know where General Marshall has stood on such invasion, for that has been one of the major issues of the war, as Moscow hasn't allowed us to forget. Readers of this column over a considerable period will recall that it persistently has pointed out that the quickest way to victory would be this admittedly highly dangerous operation — always provided the Allies were properly set for it. No-body with any knowledge of military affairs would suggest such an invasion short of full preparedness.

Arguments On Channel Route
You'll find plenty of military experts who feel that had the Allies been able to invade France this summer, it likely would have been possible to finish Hitler off by the end of the year. Some think it still might be done, if the operation were started soon, though admittedly the season is late.

The Russian plea of course has been that the appointed hour for invasion is while the Germans are in dire straits on the Red front. General Marshall himself in testifying before the Senate and House Military committee on the need of more men for the Army, declared: "While you have the other fellow on the run, the more you do to cut him down before he regains his balance, the better it is."

One of the arguments against cross-channel invasion now is that the Germans are better prepared for an attack on the French and Belgian coasts than at any other place. For this reason the Nazis would like the Allies to try this operation. It also is argued that failure might be catastrophic for the Allies. There are other arguments, including the one that we are helping relieve pressure on the Russians by invading Italy, and would give further aid by invading the Balkans.

Political Angle
Well, there's truth in this. However, it's apparent that the Russians don't want the Allies to invade the Balkans, which Moscow regards as its sphere of influence. We know also, that Britain long has worked to extend her influence in the Balkans, which lie up against her special sphere of influence in the Middle East. Thus we encounter a political angle, quite apart from the military.

Just as this article was being finished there arrived from London a bulletin quoting Prime Minister Churchill as telling the House of Commons:

"I never have regarded this African operation as a substitute for a direct attack across the channel on the Germans in France and the low countries."

War Job Keeps Man In Country

Philadelphia, Sept. 21 (AP)—Antonio Da Silva may have entered the United States illegally but he took a war job when he arrived here and as long as he keeps it he doesn't have to go back to Portugal.

A U. S. district judge suspended sentence on Da Silva, who was subject to deportation after being convicted of illegal entry, yesterday when a foreman at the Bethlehem (Pa.) Steel company said in court that he was a valuable worker.

Da Silva said he reached this country as a stowaway in November, 1941, living on six loaves of bread and six cans of sardines on the way across the Atlantic.

PAPER RAISES PRICE

Altoona, Pa., Sept. 21 (AP)—The Morning Tribune today announced the single copy price of the publication will be four cents, an increase of one cent, effective Oct. 1. The monthly home delivered rate will be raised from 75 to 95 cents. The afternoon Mirror announced similar price increases yesterday.

DEATH

Mrs. Howard Michael

Mrs. Anna M. Michael, 74, wife of Howard Michael, Hanover, died at her home Monday morning at 8:45 o'clock, following an extended illness.

Mrs. Michael was a daughter of the late Henry and Mary Neihauer Koehler. She was a member of Trinity Reformed church.

Surviving are her husband, 10 children, Miss Mary Michael, Washington, D. C.; Henry J. Michael, John C. Michael, both of Hanover; Robert Michael, Gettysburg; William Michael, York; Mrs. Allen Messinger, Hanover; Mrs. William Guiles, Reading; Mrs. David Laughman, Hanover; Miss Elizabeth Michael, at home, and George D. Michael, serving with the United States Navy; 12 grandchildren; three brothers, John Koehler, Union Bridge, Md.; Harry Koehler, Erie, Pa., and Paul Koehler, Hanover, and two sisters, the Misses Katie and Emma Koehler, Hanover.

Funeral Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the W. A. Feiser funeral home, Carlisle street, Hanover, with the Rev. Howard E. Sheely, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, officiating. Interment in Mt. Olivet cemetery, Hanover. Friends may call Wednesday evening at the Feiser funeral home.

are becoming stronger and stronger.

Scores Critics

The claim that Hitler was given 40 days to move in on Italy, the Prime Minister said firmly, "is an ill-founded in fact as it is sounding to those bereaved. The timing of our main attack in Italy was fixed without the slightest reference to the attitude of the Italian government."

Churchill's calm description of the minute and exact planning that had gone into the Italian campaign—it was an answer to critics in the same forum where he had met and mastered so many previous criticisms—presented the picture of an Allied hand in Italy far harder than had been previously known.

"We did not insist upon having Mussolini handed over to us beforehand," he said, for the simple reason that it would have tipped off the Germans of Badoglio's plan to make peace at a moment when "the Italians were in the position of having still to appear as Allies of Germany."

Too, his disclosure that precise measures had been taken to keep Mussolini in Allied hands—measures extending to orders for the former premier's execution if necessary—suggested something far removed from the sentimental approach to the Duce which some had accused the Allies of making.

Premier Pietro Badoglio's government, Churchill explained, had made preparations to hold Mussolini but were not prepared against the one method Hitler attempted and brought off—"A heavy parachute descent at that particular point (Gran Sasso)."

"They had one card up their sleeves," he added calmly. "The Carabinieri guards had orders to shoot Mussolini if any attempt was made to rescue him but they failed in their duty."

Churchill told Commons that the Mediterranean campaign is not "a substitute for a direct attack across the channel on the Germans in France and the low countries"—that he has never regarded it as such.

"On the contrary," he said, "the opening of this new front in the Mediterranean was always intended to be an essential preliminary to the main attack upon Germany and her ring of subjugated and satellite states."

star to life. Five scouts received merit badges.

A plea for "your earnest and active support" in the current bond drive was made by Doctor Coleman prior to his address on the "Molly Maguires." Edmund W. Thomas reported on the availability of two per cent war securities to be purchased with corporation funds and Mares Sherman, chairman of the community service committee, which has taken over the sale of bonds for the Rotary club, reported on activities of his committee.

Labor troubles brought about by the rapid development of the mining industry, excessive draft of working men for the Civil war and the depression of 1873 were among the factors that brought the dent Frederick Tilberg presided.

"Molly Maguire" organization to the forefront in the latter half of the 19th century, Doctor Coleman said.

The "Molly Maguires" were accused of a number of crimes ranging from payroll robberies to murder of mine bosses. A Pinkerton detective finally was hired to expose the leaders and a number of miners were hanged on the testimony of the detective, some of whom had been previously sentenced on perjury charges, the speaker related.

Thirty-three Rotarians and one guest, Russell Ruf of Denora, attended the meeting at which Presi-

LYE POISONING KILLS WOMAN

Mrs. Annie Laughman, 52, wife of George Laughman, New Oxford R. 3, died Monday morning at 4:09 o'clock at the Hanover hospital. Her death, according to Dr. L. U. Zech, York county coroner, was due to having swallowed a solution of lye.

It was stated that Mrs. Laughman was engaged in making soap when for some reason she drank some of the solution. The coroner issued the death certificate giving the cause as Banner lye poisoning. She had been admitted to the hospital Saturday evening after 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Laughman was a daughter of the late John and Sevilla (Laughman) Laughman, and was born December 1, 1890. She was a member of the first Lutheran church, New Oxford.

Surviving are her husband; one daughter, Miss Elsie Laughman, at home, and six brothers, Samuel Laughman, Centennial; Clarence Laughman, New Oxford R. D.; Temple Laughman, Hanover R. D.; Clayton Laughman, Elm avenue, Hanover; Albert Laughman, Abbotstown R. D. 1, and Gilbert Laughman, Biglerville.

Funeral Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock from the W. A. Feiser funeral home, Carlisle street, Hanover, with the Rev. George E. Sheffer, pastor of the First Lutheran church, New Oxford, officiating. Interment in the Pines church cemetery, New Chester. Friends may call Tuesday evening at the funeral home.

OFFICIAL COUNT

Cratin, 1,272. Coroner, Dr. C. G. Crist, 200; Dr. A. B. Ertan, 45. Surveyor, Plus Orner, 54; LeRoy H. Winebrenner, 61.

Two auditors and two commissioners were nominated on each ticket.

First Expense Accounts
Two of the candidates have already filed their expense accounts; George D. Sheely and A. J. Carbaugh. Both listed less than $100 as their expenses.

No towns have notified the election commission so far that they are seeking a referendum on Sunday sports, it was stated.

The candidates who won their nominations by write-in votes, must pay a filing fee for the first time in history, if they want their name to appear on the November ballot. Under a new act of legislature all candidates must pay a filing fee, if there is one for their office, before their names can be placed on the ballot. Previously men who were nominated by write-in votes did not have to pay the fee.

The military ballot can change many of the apparent candidates for office in Gettysburg, with a number of men winning the nomination by three or four votes.

Local Races Close
Glenn Guise, local chief of police, won the Republican nomination for high constable with 24 votes, with Stover Small and Victor Palmer each obtaining 11 votes. The soldiers' vote may make a change in the Democratic nomination for high constable here, with Thomas G. Moss obtaining nine votes, all in the third ward and Victor Palmer securing five votes.

Mahlon P. Hartzell and Paul M. Rohrbach won the Republican nominations for school director with 651 and 602 votes respectively, while Mr. Hartzell and C. B. Dougherty won the Democratic nominations with seven votes apiece.

Harry J. Troxell secured 17 written-in-votes for councilman on the Democratic ticket in the first ward while Charles Beales is the apparent other nominee with two votes. The soldiers' vote however may give anyone the nomination. On the Republican ticket for first ward councilman, Vernon B. Corie, only candidate for the nomination received 128 votes while Charles Beales with four votes from the two precincts in the ward seems to hold the second nomination.

25 Soldiers Die In Plane Crash

Maxton, N. C., Sept. 21 (AP)—A board of inquiry sought to learn today the cause of the crash of an Army transport plane which carried 25 soldiers to their deaths.

The plane crashed on the Laurinburg-Maxton Army Airbase field two miles from here while on a routine flight yesterday, the post Public Relations office announced.

"Names of those killed will be made available for release after the next of kin have been notified," the announcement said.

After striking the ground, the craft burst into flames. No further details were announced.

GOP WOMEN MEET

Philadelphia, Sept. 21 (AP)—Republican women from Southeastern Pennsylvania gathered here today for the first of six regional meetings planned by the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women. Other sessions are planned Thursday at Pittsburgh, Friday at Erie, Sept. 29, at Harrisburg, Sept. 30 at Williamsport and Oct. 1 at Scranton.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hildebrand, York, who spent Sunday with Mrs. Hildebrand's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Roth, Biglerville, were accompanied home by their daughters, Clara Lou and Lola Ann, who had been with their grandparents for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Powell and Mrs. Harper Flury, Biglerville, spent Sunday in Harrisburg with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Powell. Mrs. Augustus Etter accompanied the party home for a visit of a few days.

Miss Mary Enck, Biglerville, has returned from a week's visit with relatives at Greensboro, North Carolina.

Miss Janice Deardorff has resumed her studies at Gettysburg college after spending a short time at her home in Arendtsville.

Pvt. Garland Heare, of the Lockbourne Army Air base, Columbus, Ohio, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heare, of The Narrows.

The Pathfinder class of St. Paul's Lutheran Sunday school, Biglerville, will meet this evening at the parsonage. Mrs. M. A. Shue and Mrs. Roy Baker will serve as hostesses.

Mrs. Robert E. Fox, of Jenkintown, was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar C. Rice, Biglerville.

Mrs. Robert Williamson, Jr., of Atlanta, Georgia, is a guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Leighton C. Taylor.

Staff Serg. Daniel Dentler, son of Mrs. J. A. Dentler, of Biglerville, is now stationed at Kearen, Utah.

Private Fred H. Rice has returned to Fort Bliss, Texas, after spending a twelve-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rice, Aspers.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sell and son, Billy, Detroit, Michigan, are guests of Mr. Sell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sell, Biglerville.

Stanton D. Thomas, who is employed at the Glenn L. Martin plant, Baltimore, spent the week-end with Mrs. Thomas at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nyle Thomas, Biglerville.

Pfc. Merl Hess has returned to Los Angeles, California, after spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hess.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Lupp, and daughters, Nadine and Janice, and the Misses Margaret and Julia Yost, Biglerville, spent Saturday in Harrisburg.

"SWELL KID," SAYS CONVICT OF GIRL HE AIDS

Philadelphia, Sept. 21 (AP)—"Gee, she's a swell kid."

He kept repeating that, and grinning at the memory, when they led him back to Eastern penitentiary—no longer Thomas J. Caulfield, who gave his skin to save a little girl's life, but number 5370, under life sentence for killing a policeman.

The girl, 10-year-old Judy Rosen, is doing well, they said at Mt. Sinai hospital, though it will be months before she recovers from the chest and arm burns that made a skin graft necessary.

She knew that when she told Caulfield yesterday that she missed her mother's cooking.

"Yes," the 33-year-old convict agreed, "there is no place like home."

They liked each other on sight. Judy called him "Pat," his nickname, and said she was glad he wasn't freckled or "too hairy."

Later he gave her a clay modeling set and some toys bought with his earnings as a clerk in the prison hospital.

"Any little girl that has her grit and determination is all right with me," Caulfield declared as he climbed into the automobile that was to take him back to the prison where he has spent 14 years.

"Gee, she's a swell kid," he said again.

GUILTY OF MURDER

Beaver, Pa., Sept. 21 (AP)—Edward (Fox) Clark, 48, of Aliquippa, entered a plea of guilty in court yesterday on a charge of killing his estranged wife, Sammy Lee Clark, 20, by cutting her throat with a razor. The court will hear testimony later to determine the degree of guilt.

CONGRESS SEEN REPUDIATING ISOLATIONISM

By ALEX H. SINGLETON

Washington, Sept. 21 (AP)—The House reached for its legislative pen today to sign a history-shaping document which would place Congress on record in favor of postwar collaboration with other nations in maintaining a "just and lasting peace."

The action comes in a roll call vote on a tersely worded resolution designed to bury any belief that Congressional peacetime philosophy will be dictated by a doctrine of isolationism.

There appeared little doubt as to the outcome. From both the Republican and Democratic sides of the aisle came potent support for the resolution, drafted by Rep. Fulbright (D-Ark.). Leaders of both parties expressed confidence it would be adopted by substantially more than the required two-thirds vote.

"Outlaws War"
A comparative handful of lawmakers battled bitterly against it. They declared its adoption would sign away American sovereign and constitutional rights, that its acceptance would involve the United States in the conflicts, the responsibilities and the wars of other continents.

Against that argument was leveled the repeated contention of the resolution's backers that Congress had dealt this nation out of postwar collaboration after World War No. 1, and that the stakes of permanent peace were worth the gamble of the game.

Fulbright put it this way: This, he said, is the "first small step" in building a foreign policy.

Majority Leader McCormack (D-Mass.) called it a "golden opportunity" to outlaw war, but Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich.) described it as a repudiation of longstanding national policy.

WILLKIE ASKS LIBERAL STAND

New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—If the Republican party adopts a liberal 1944 platform, Wendell L. Willkie is willing to give his complete and undeviating service "as the convention's nominee or as a worker in the ranks."

Willkie made the statement yesterday in response to one of a series of questions in Look magazine which asked, "Will you be available for the Republican nomination for President in 1944?"

The 1940 Republican candidate said his party could win next year only if liberalism wins "within the Republican party itself."

He outlined "five indispensable planks" for a liberal Republican platform and criticized the New Deal's pre-Pearl Harbor foreign policy and "disgraceful manipulations" on the home front.

The liberal platform, he said, must include: 1. "Protection of minorities," 2. "Efficient, well-managed and economical administration," 3. "A rebirth of enterprise—real enterprise," 4. Extension of social security and absolute guarantees against unemployment and want, 5. A new foreign policy "by which we and other nations can assure our future safety and promote our mutual interests."

CARD LEFTIES SCHEDULED TO FACE YANKEES

By SID FEDER

New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—For a number of years now, the most famous last word in the American league has been to start shouting about what you're going to do to the Yankees on any given occasion. The roof has a funny habit of falling in when you try to make it stick.

So, since everything's been going so smoothly up to now, it might be a good idea to tip off the National leaguers that they're looking for a leak in the gas meter with a lit match when they holler that (1) the Yankees can't do a thing against left-handers and (2) that the three top St. Louis Cardinals southpaws figure to do fearful things to the Bombers in the forthcoming World Series.

The chief thing wrong with that picture is that no one seems to be thinking about what the Yanks might do to the Redbird portenders. So far this season, the upturn thumpers have gone to the mat with an assortment of 16 American league southpaws and they've won 20 games and lost 12 in those which went to a decision. What's more, the Yanks haven't done too bad with a number of lefties in their six World Series since '36—guys like Carl Hubbell.

No Superman
And while the Cards' top three—Max Lanier, Alpha (Bet) Brazie and Oklahoma Harry Brecheen, the big man from Broken Bow—all are nice young fellows, you have to admit there isn't a Hubbell in the lot. Naturally, the '43 Yanks aren't the 1936 block-busters, either.

The way things shape up, however, Billy Southworth practically has to depend on his southpaws to turn the trick. As a matter of fact, the tossing on both sides is strictly out of the grab bag, because Marse Joe McCarthy's Yankee staff, aside from George Spud Chandler, is mostly hot-and-cold, like boarding house coffee.

Right-hander Mort Cooper, a 20-game winner again, is the ace of the Cards' deck but he is clubbed out of it twice in last year's fall fust and has been whacked hard in two all-star appearances. In spite of that, he'll probably get the call to lead off the first game.

But after Mort, Billy the Kid must come in with St. Louis lefties, because the only other worthwhile righty—Harry Gumbert—is laid up with the miseries. Lanier, with a record of 13-7 this season and boasting a win in the '42 classic—in a relief role—is the likely second game choice, largely because Brazie and Brecheen are rookies. But Southworth tossed the big dice with a rookie—Johnny Beazley—twice last year and came up seven, so nice he hasn't anyone else, Brazie, with a 7-1 record for his first year and Brecheen, with 9-5, are practically sure of a job.

Chandler Named
Chandler, with 19 wins already this year, is a cinch to hit 20 and be the Yanks' starter in the first game.

But McCarthy, too, is going to have to come up with something out of the hat. And of his 11 tossers, the one the boys like most as the dark horse is Hank Borowy, the one-time Fordham flinger whose 12-9 for the season doesn't tip you off that he's won four in a row the last month. For southpawing purposes, McCarthy has Marius Russo, but the chances are he'll go along with Tiny Bonham, the lame-backed husky who's been up-and-down this summer, and Charlie Wensloff, the California rookie who has looked like the classiest of the bunch on some occasions and on others has resembled a one-way ticket to Peoria.

Out in the Yankee bull-pen, ready for the fire alarm to go off, is still the best relief man in baseball—Fireman Johnny Murphy, the guy with the plow chin, the cute curve and the dot-an-i control.

Penn-Princeton Line-Ups In Doubt

Philadelphia, Sept. 21 (AP)—It isn't even safe to predict the line-up in Saturday's Penn-Princeton game here, let alone the outcome.

Penn Coach George Munger said the makeup of his starting eleven probably would remain in doubt until Friday afternoon when the team runs through final signal practice.

He indicated, however, that Joe Michaels is likely to advance from the reserve list to fill the tailback position if Bob Odell remains at blocking back.

Five Lettermen Open With State

State College, Pa., (AP) — Five lettermen—if all goes well—will bolster Penn State's football lineup when the Nittany Lions open the season here Saturday against Bucknell.

Until Navy V-12 players receive their classroom grades later this week, Coach Bob Higgins explained, he won't be certain who can play. "Strict academic requirements are making it tough for us this year but we'll field a team if we have to use our entire freshman contingent," Higgins declared.

Sgt. Joe Louis At Disadvantage

Greenville, Pa., Sept. 21 (AP)—Joe Louis may be the world's heavy-weight champion, but Sgt. Joe Louis Barrow is just Sgt. Joe Louis Barrow, and that, he said today, can have its complications.

"See George there?" When he was George Nicholson he was my old sparring partner. Now he ranks me. He's first sergeant George Nicholson. Now, you know, a first sergeant has a right to knock a sergeant down whenever he wants to. He did it at Mitchell Field one day, too." The Brown Bomber told convalescent soldiers in a hospital at the Shenango Personnel Replacement depot.

"That's right," the first sergeant said. "Now I don't have to take lambastics from him like I used to. All I have to do is holler 'ten-shun'."

The champion, with Nicholson, Corp. Ray (Sugar) Robinson and Sgt. Jimmy Edgar stopped here yesterday on their tour of army camps.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—Say what you like about the quality of football this season, at least it's producing a lot more laughs than in years when the game was good enough to be taken seriously.

In place of solemn discussions of single wing, double wing, "Notre Dame" or "T" formations, coaches now are solid for the V-12 formation. . . . And PFC Jim Reed, who can't forget football even though he's in the Army, suggests: "First down is what this season's 17-year-old quarterbacks will be shaving off their chins." . . . Tub Thumper Harold Keith reports that when Oklahoma's new junior varsity team lost 6-0 to Norman high school, one Sooner end just stood by and watched when the high schoolers ran around him for 40 yards on a fake punt. . . . Jayvee Coach Herb Heilman told the youngster: "Why, son, that play is as old as the hills." . . . "Yes, coach," came the reply, "but I'm not as old as the hills."

YOU PICK 'EM

Charley Keller, Yankees—They call him King Kong: If he can't scare the opposing pitchers into submission, he clubs 'em. . . . has hit 28 home runs and has drawn over 100 walks this season—all on a .271 batting average. . . . made only four hits in the '42 World Series but two were homers, accounting for five runs. . . . appearing in fourth World Series in five years of major league ball.

Danny Litwiler, Cardinals—Danny played in 151 games for the Phillies last year without making an error, and apparently it wasn't an error when he hurt his leg in a race on opening day last spring. . . . that led to his being traded to the Cards and to the brand new experience of collecting a World Series check. . . . hitting an undistinguished .266.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Chip of granite: Vin Lombardi, the old Fordham "block" who coaches at St. Cecilia's high in Englewood, New Jersey, has a promising freshman guard candidate in his kid brother, Joe, who is only 13 years old but weighs 165 pounds. . . . Edward J. Baker, who owns the famous trotter, Greyhound, and recently bought King's Counsel for $20,000, now is bidding for the 1943 Hambletonian winner, Volo Song. . . . Fred Mandel, Jr., owner and publicity man of the Detroit Lions, devotes two pages of his latest handout to notes about Frankie Sinkwich. After negotiating Frank's contract, Mandel admits that Pop Ignatius Sinkwich would make a great blocking back.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Paul Menton, Baltimore Evening Sun: "From all accounts 'mat' will throw more college teams for a loss this fall than anything else. The Navy V-12's are finding it far more difficult than learning football signals. If they fall the former they are not around to learn the latter."

SERVICE DEPT.

Freddie Hutchinson, ex-Detroit flinger who spent most of the season in the Norfolk Naval Training Station outfield, compiled a .323 batting average but lost the station title to Phil Rizzuto, who hit .317 and went to the plate a lot oftener.

Chief Specialist Red Cochrane, the welterweight champ who is home from the South Pacific on a furlough, is calling on the boxing mob to prove that he weighs only 148 pounds, not 185 as reported.

With complete disregard of rank, Sgt. Sid Gray writes a column in the Camp Davis, North Carolina, "AA Barrage" asking why it's wrong for Army trainees to play college football and right for the Navy men.

TO FILL VACANCY

Harrisburg, Sept. 21 (AP)—Governor Martin must receive the resignation of Rep. James E. Van Zandt of Altoona, Republican member of Congress, before Oct. 2 to enable him to issue a writ of election for choice of Van Zandt's successor in November, a governor's office spokesman said Sunday night.

There are 28 varieties of tree frogs in this country.

YANKEES-TIGER SERIES HOLDS TOP INTEREST

By JUDSON BAILEY

The Associated Press
The major leagues will swing into their last interseasonal round robin of the season tomorrow and instead of everybody ogling the St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers as appeared likely when the schedule was drawn up, attention will be centered on the New York Yankees' games with the Detroit Tigers.

In the last couple of years a September series between the Cards and Dodgers always has meant thunder and lightning and a pennant waving in the balance.

But this is all changed now. The three games with the Dodgers this week only mean to the Cardinals a chance to rub salt on old wounds. They could do this effectively by bumping Brooklyn out of second place, if they haven't let down as the result of clinching the National league pennant Saturday, and if the Cincinnati Reds cut loose against the New York Giants.

However, the controversy over second place in the senior circuit will be in eclipse until the New York Yankees complete the business of winning the American league flag.

Muffed Chance
They had a chance to do it at Washington last week-end, but were set down surprisingly in three consecutive games as the Senators reinforced their hold on the runner-up spot with a nine-game winning streak.

As a result the Yankees still need a combination of five victories of their own or defeats for Washington to eliminate the Senators.

While the Yankees are taking on Detroit for four games in New York, the Senators will be host to the St. Louis Browns for three night tussles.

The Cleveland Indians, who also still have a mathematical chance, come into Yankee stadium Sunday after four games at Boston and then move on to Washington in the middle of next week.

The race should be over by then, but if it is not the Indians and Senators may dispose of each other.

Carnegie Tech To Have Coach Staff

Pittsburgh, Sept. 21 (AP)—Carnegie Tech officially will have a football coaching squad when the Skibos open their season at Rochester University Oct. 2.

After three weeks of drill under "unofficial" mentors, Athletic Director Clarence (Buddy) Overend yesterday announced appointment of Joseph Peter (Mugsy) Skladany as head coach, succeeding Dr. Eddie Baker, now in the Naval Reserve.

Składany, one of the University of Pittsburgh's greats a decade ago, has been tutoring the inexperienced Skibo squad since the first of the month. A. C. (Al) Irwin and Kermit (Buck) Ewing, who have been aiding him, were named assistant coaches.

Both Składany and Irwin are employed in war plants, but have arranged their work schedules so they can carry on the coaching duties. Ewing teaches painting in the Carnegie Tech Art school and doubles as a physical training instructor.

Jim Wilson Denies Rumors He'll Quit

Chicago, Sept. 21 (AP)—Manager Jim Wilson of the Chicago Cubs said today he hoped the rumor-mongers would stop insisting that he will resign.

"I have discussed my job with no one," he declared. "I will not resign between now and the time the season ends, or between the end of the season and the date my contract expires, next December 31."

Meanwhile, Mrs. Grace Comiskey, president of the Chicago White Sox, said she was distressed over "irresponsible stories" that the Sox manager, Jim Dykes, would prefer to leave the Sox and manage some other major league club next year. "We are counting on having Jim back next season," she remarked, "and he is just as much disturbed as I am over these reports."

Top Stars Enter Red Cross Benefit

Philadelphia, Sept. 21 (AP)—Some of the nation's foremost golfers were listed today as competitors in a Red Cross invitation tournament at the Torresdale-Frankford club here October 3.

Dot Germain, women's western amateur titlist, is down for a match with Sam Byrd, Victory National Open champion, and Byron Nelson, former National Open titlist.

Others scheduled to take part include Mrs. Edward H. Vane, Jr., the former Glenna Collett; Sgt. Jimmy Turnesa, Vie Ghezzi, Jimmy Demaret, Leo Diegel and J. Wood Platt, Philadelphia amateur champ.

OYSTER SHUCKING CHAMP

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 21 (AP)—The Rev. Daniel White, negro minister from Port Norris, New Jersey, who works in his spare time in an oyster cannery, shucked 200 oysters in 15 minutes and 12 seconds here Sunday to win the national oyster opening contest.

Manager Chooses Self For Big Game

By the (AP)

Manager Alex Mustakis of the Elmira Pioneers, never one to assign another to a task he would not undertake himself, has elected to be on the spot tonight. As manager he has assigned himself, as pitcher, to face Scranton's championship team in the second game of the Eastern league's Governors' cup series.

The Pioneers drew first blood in the best-of-seven series last night by downing their Pennsylvania rivals, 9-8, in a contest that saw the Elmira team score seven runs in one inning. With an eye to returning home tomorrow night with a two-game advantage over the 1943 league champs, Mustakis will put all his eggs in one basket and gamble on himself.

HOCKEY CLUB LACKS TEAM

Pittsburgh, Sept. 21 (AP)—Anybody who knows the difference between a pair of skates and a penalty box can just about qualify for a job with the Pittsburgh entry in the shrunken American Hockey league.

"That's all we need now—a team," said John Harris, Hornets' owner, after returning from a week-end league meeting in New York. "We're not sure of any of our players from last year. Many are working in war plants and probably won't be available. I guess we'll have to draw on the youngsters for talent."

The club will have to hurry, too, for its 52-game schedule opens Oct. 29. Schedules for all the clubs—Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Indianapolis, Buffalo, Providence and Hershey remained after Washington dropped out—are to be announced next week.

Their owner isn't predicting whether the Hornets will finish higher than their fourth place of last year although he's confident of finding "a fast, scrappy team" of youngsters at forthcoming tryouts in Canada.

As to a proposed cut in the size of squads: "Well, 12 men or 15, it doesn't make any difference except if it's 12 that'll be three less we'll have to find. We don't even have one yet."

Byrd Is Medalist In Pro Tournament

Philadelphia, Sept. 21 (AP)—Sam Byrd, recently crowned Victory National Open champion, was medalist with a scorching 69-66-135 today as match play began in the 27th annual Philadelphia PGA tournament over the Lanerch Country club course.

He needed the nine-under-par score to edge out George Fazio of Pine Valley, who became runnerup in the qualifying test for the fourth successive year with 70-66-136.

Byrd, Merion pro, meets George Griffin, Green Valley, today while Fazio is paired with Pat Browne, Huntingdon Valley.

Syracuse-Toronto In Final Series

By the (AP)
It is Syracuse vs. Toronto in the final round of the International league playoffs that get underway in the Canadian city Wednesday night.

The chiefs, aided by a nine-run first inning, downed the Newark Bears, 14 to 4, in the sixth game of the semi-final round last night and earned the right to oppose the Leafs, who eliminated Montreal on Sunday.

The winner of this best-of-seven series will oppose the American association playoff victor in the little World series, expected to start about October 1.

L. SUSQUEHANNA LOOP CHANGES POINT SYSTEM

Only one of the 24 schools in the Lower Susquehanna Scholastic Football conference will drop football, despite wartime conditions which cause many of the members to operate under hardships. It was revealed at a meeting of officials at Camp Hill high school Monday evening.

Prof. L. B. Stock, Dale Smith and E. P. Benner represented Biglerville high school at the meeting. New Freedom high, situated on the extreme southeast end of the conference area, is the lone school to give up the sport. New Freedom is not only beset with transportation difficulties but also lacks a coach and playing facilities.

Of the schools which will have teams, most will be composed of boys in the 16- and 17-year-age classes. Many will not have available some of the older players of last year's teams who were expected back this year but who have gone into the armed services or industry.

Circuit Members
The schools which will compete for Class A and B honors as well as top conference honors are: Biglerville, Duncannon, Elizabethtown, Enola, Ephrata, Highspire, Hummelstown, Juniata Joint High of Milliford, Lemoyne, Littleton, Paxton High, Lykens, Millersburg, New Cumberland, Newport, Red Lion, Susquehanna Township, West York, Williamstown, Washington Township and Burnham.

Classification of the schools into classes will be made as soon as a survey of school enrollments are made. It is possible that Lower Paxton high, a former Class B champion, may move into Class A.

At the same time, Susquehanna Township high, previously in Class A, may drop back to Class B. All schools with an enrollment of 300 or less are in Class B. Those with higher enrollments are in Class A.

All schools must compete in five or more conference games to be eligible for championship honors. For the past two years, the minimum number of games was reduced to four; in 1941 because of the infantile paralysis epidemic, and last year because of transportation difficulties.

Point Change
The loop also voted a change in the point system used in rating the teams. The change, suggested by the league statistician, will cut in half the number of points lost by a Class B team when it is defeated by a Class A club, thereby stabilizing the system. Heretofore, Class B teams seriously considered dropping Class A teams from their schedules because losses made it difficult for the B team to win its own division of the conference race.

Karl Eshied, principal of Lemoyne high school and league secretary, was appointed by President Fred Bower, Camp Hill High principal, as a committee of one to obtain trophies for the 1943 champions.

Open Diamond Playoffs Today

Milwaukee, Sept. 21 (AP)—Four closely bunched first division baseball teams were scheduled to open the American association playoffs today and the champion Brewers of Milwaukee, fresh from a hot streak in the closing weeks of the regular campaign, were ready to keep on winning.

The champions open tonight against the third-place Columbus Red Birds, defending junior world's champions. Indianapolis, runner up to Milwaukee in the regular season, plays host to fourth-place Toledo.

The series, for three games out of five, will be at Milwaukee and Indianapolis again tomorrow night, shifting to Columbus and Toledo for the final encounters.

Factory Payrolls At 20-Year Peak

Philadelphia, Sept. 21 (AP)—Pennsylvania factory payrolls, rising approximately three per cent during July and August, reached the highest levels in 20 years, a survey by the Federal Reserve bank of Philadelphia disclosed today.

The bank said, however, that employment showed virtually no change during the two-month period. A three per cent increase was reported for the comparable 1942 period.

Reports from 2,903 manufacturing plants showed wage payments in the 1943 period amounted to more than $50,000,000 to 1,250,000 employees, with the average weekly wage reaching an all-time high of $45.28.

FINALS BEGIN IN INTERSTATE

Lancaster's Red Roses entertain York's White Roses tonight in the opening game of the Interstate league's final playoffs for the governor's cup.

Lancaster, the Class B loop's pennant winner, eliminated Wilmington with an 11-4 victory, pitcher Les McCrabb's second in four days, last night before 3,748.

York, which dropped Hagerstown from the semi-finals the night before, is host to Lancaster Wednesday and Thursday nights going back to the Red Roses' home ground Friday night.

In another Interstate league development the Trenton Packers were disclosed to have protested to Judge William C. Bramham, minor leagues head, the claiming of 14 Packers by the Philadelphia Phillies, with which Trenton has a working agreement.

Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis' office also said at Chicago that Trenton had filed a "claim" which would be heard in about 10 days.

An Evening Thought

Young men think old men are fools; but old men know young men are fools.—George Chapman

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

HOME AND A FACTORY

I grant you for a little while until the war is won

Tis well the work of fighting men by women can be done.

But when the war is ended, I'd remind the women all,

There's nothing in a factory that's good for children small.

I know it's noble work they do with torch and press and drill.

I honor them who go to work the posts of men to fill.

But this I hope, when victory comes and all our men return

The women will stay home and teach what children ought to learn.

The home's the place for children small! 'Tis there they must be trained.

There's nothing in the factories but money to be gained.

And nothing in the factories, however large the pay,

Will keep a youngster out of harm or teach him how to pray.

For when the men come home again 'tis homes they'll surely need

And wives to cook their meals for them, and friends and books to read.

So this I would remind them all, lest they be lured to roam:

There's nothing in a factory can take the place of home.

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

COURTESY TODAY

I have noted a marked discourtesy on the part of present day clerks in stores. I recognize that many of them are new on the job, and that conditions are in a very unsettled state, but this does not excuse those who are put in a position to serve the public.

Here are a few simple statements:

"We haven't got it—and wouldn't sell it to you if we had." I asked:

"Why?" and receive this answer: "Because there is a restriction on its sale." I learned later that "regular" customers could get the article, because of a supply set aside before such restrictions. It pays to look ahead—to new customers.

A woman shops for an hour or so and takes her bundles to the wrapping counter with several clients in line ahead of her. It is a hot day, and all in line—not a long one—are tired. But just then the closing signal rings and the clerk announces: "No more service. Don't you know that a war is on?" Well, no one needs to be told that, especially mothers with boys far from home or those with a heavy heart because one or more will never return.

In another store I stood and waited to be served. A customer asked for a certain article. "Haven't got it," was the reply of the clerk. Then she walked away. Two other clerks were in the rear of the store, talking and laughing, with several prospective customers waiting in different parts of the store to be waited upon.

Some concerns are making more profit than they ever have before, and every article that has not been rationed and a ceiling price put upon it, is made to penalize the purchaser of it—for wanting it at this time!

I noted this same condition in the first World War—but after it was over, clerks and managers could not do enough to invite sales. They actually thanked you for coming into their store or establishment. Courtesy has never failed to bring a profit to the one making use of it. It is a vital element in the asset of any organization. In fact it is capital itself! And right now is the most favorable time possible to use it.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Drooping Flower."

The towhee or swamp robin is a bird ventriloquist.

Local Miscellany: Squirrels are reported to be very numerous this fall.

The executive officers of the Hagertown fair met on Saturday to consult over the plans for the coming exhibition in October. The State fair will be held in connection with it. Messrs. Yingling, J. Hersh, Drals, Goldsborough and W. T. Ziegler of the Adams County Board of Directors were present at the meeting.

The bright light, southeast of town on Monday night, is reported to have been occasioned by the burning of the barn of John Miller, of Mt. Pleasant township.

T. S. Blocher, coach-maker, of Littlestown, has on exhibition at the Hanover fair some very fine surries and buggies on which he received five 1st premiums.

A protracted meeting will be held in the U. B. church, commencing on Sunday night. J. H. Cole, lay evangelist from Maryland, will be present to conduct the services.

The new Lutheran church at McSherrystown will be dedicated on Sunday. Drs. Valentine and McKnight will preach the sermons.

Wedding Bells: In St. Francis Xavier Catholic church, on Tuesday morning, Francis Sionaker, of this place, and Miss Mary Becker, of Shoemakersville, Berks county, were married. Rev. Father Smith performed the ceremony.

Marriages: Gulden-Pottorff: Sept. 25, at the bride's home, by the Rev. H. C. Shinde, J. W. D. Gulden, of Plainview, to Annie L. Pottorff, of New Chester.

Shoop-Weigand: Sept. 25, in this place, by the Rev. E. Breidenbaugh, Edwin H. Shoop of Harrisburg, to Miss Annie Weigand of this place.

Improvements: Louis Meals is erecting a frame dwelling house on his lot, on York street.

The Land and Improvement company has laid out two streets at the foot of Seminary Ridge, and will divide the land into lots, 60 x 180 feet. These are priced at $250 each and have been recommended as suitable for homes for superannuated ministers, as the Lutheran papers suggested some time ago. One of the streets has been named Hay street, after the late Dr. Hay.

Admitted: William Hersh, elder son of Ex-Sheriff Hersh, passed an excellent examination before the Bar committee on Thursday evening. On motion of William McSherry, Jr., Esq., Mr. Hersh was on Monday, admitted to practice in the courts of the county.

Miss Bessie Black, who has been visiting Mrs. Charles S. Duncan, returned on Friday to her home in Greensburg.

Miss Kate Garlach is back from a four weeks' trip to Philadelphia and other points.

Mr. John Winebrenner and daughter, Miss Mary, have returned from Connecticut. Mrs. Chapman arrived on Tuesday.

J. Louis Rhodes, of Freedom township, on Monday started for the World's Fair, and William F. Givler and wife went on Saturday.

George McWalter, Esq., returned from the World's Fair on Friday.

Colonel C. H. Buehler and Mrs. Buehler left on Saturday for the White City.

Miss Ida Berger and Miss Nellie Aughinbaugh, of Harrisburg, are visiting Miss Mattie Aughinbaugh.

Robert Rupp and Dennis Twomey left on Wednesday for the World's Fair.

Sanford B. Martin is back from Chicago. He will leave next week for Yale.

The Hon. James A. Tawney, Congressman from Minnesota was in town last week. He is a relative of the Blocher family.

Miss Annie Doersom is visiting for two weeks in Baltimore.

Capt. James Hersh has been appointed one of the aides to the chief marshal at the Hagerstown Fair.

Festival and Cake Walk: Grand festival at Little Round Top school house on Saturday afternoon and evening, Sept. 23. Oysters will be served. Cake walk near close of festival. Proceeds for benefit of Union Sunday school. Come and bring your friends.

Death's Doings: Henry M. Speese, of the firm of Speese & Son, on Seminary Ridge, died on Wednesday.

SCHOOLS WIN
NAVY AWARDS
FOR MODELS

Harrisburg, Sept. 21 (AP)—

Twelve Pennsylvania school districts have qualified for Navy certificates for efficiency in building model airplanes under a program which has turned out 10,000 miniature craft in the first eight months of this year.

The project closes December 31, of the Department of Public Instruction reported today, adding it is optimistic about school children's ability to meet the 16,200-plane quota for 1943.

"The local project directors of the 12 school districts and, particularly, the boys and girls who produced these planes, are to be sincerely congratulated for their efforts in furthering the winning of the war," declared Dr. Francis B. Haas, state superintendent of public instruction.

Ahead of Schedule

The districts and their quota percentages are:

Lower Merion at Ardmore, 200 per cent; Schuylkill Haven, 175 per cent; Hershey Industrial school, 140 per cent, and Allquippa, Allentown, Chester, Duquesne, Ellwood City, Johnstown, New Brighton, West York and Wilkes-Barre, all 100 per cent.

The program, set up to provide model planes for study by Navy personnel, was started in 1942. Pennsylvania schools built 20,000 craft that year.

This year, despite lack of instructors and more intricate plane designs, pupils have turned out approximately two-thirds of the year's quota with more than three months left to meet the objective.

Doctor Haas said if enough schools indicate a desire to continue the program after the national deadline, arrangements will be made to carry on the project on a statewide basis.

Generals Praise

Planes, Workers

San Diego, Calif., Sept. 21 (AP)—

Lieut. Gen. Carl Spaatz, commander of the Northwest African Air Forces, and Maj. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, commander of the U. S. Eighth Air Force in England, were among those who praised the performance of the Liberator and other American planes on the world's war fronts.

Their messages were delivered through Hugh Baillie, president of the United Press, to 50,000 workers at the Consolidated Aircraft plant here. Baillie recently returned from a tour of the war fronts in Africa, Sicily and England.

"Crews and planes have done a splendid job on all occasions," General Spaatz' message said. "My congratulations to the workers of Consolidated Aircraft who have built them."

General Eaker said that "wingtip to wingtip with the Flying Fortresses, Thunderbolts and Marauders, the Liberators are helping us to forge a chain of invincible air power that is linking Hitler to his doom."

Beverly Hills, Calif., Sept. 21 (AP)—

Film Actress Martha O'Driscoll, 21, and Lt. Comdr. Richard Donald Adams, 34, chief engineer on an aircraft carrier, married Saturday night, are honeymooning at Darnel, California.

aged 53 years. Mr. Speese was a charter member of the local camp of the P. O. S. of A., and local council of the Jr. O. U. A. M.

Foot Ball: What the college team needs is hard and intelligent practice, a competent coach, and a training table. Physical condition is as requisite as field tactics. The student who cannot give up tobacco, liquor and sweetmeats, for the few weeks of the playing season, is not man enough to be worthy even of being considered as a candidate.

Last year the eleven was weak in the tackles and the guards were slow in getting through and did not protect the halfbacks. This should be rectified now.

In the Wake of MURDER

By ADELINE McELFRESH

Chapter 5

Brad drove slowly, thinking he must get to the police station and talk to Jim Thompson. There was no point in him returning to Billingsley's office, for Thompson had had a fingerprint man on the job and, besides, he was sure there would be no evidence—either fingerprints or otherwise.

This was too big for that. The men he was after would be too cautious to invite arrest by leaving their prints all over the place.

Two blocks down the street from Jane's apartment house, he slowed to a crawl. A detour sign blocked the street, directing traffic around the block. Oh, well, Brad thought, and swung the car about. For no particular reason, he drove back toward Jane's home.

At first he was only vaguely aware that something was wrong. He didn't know what but . . . yes, he did, too. Not a light was visible from any of the windows. Jane should have one. She had not had time to get ready for bed.

He slowed down, conscious of a tiny fear tugging at his heart. Was it some sixth sense trying to warn him? He wondered, then scoffed at the thought. Hadn't he learned that intuition could not be trusted too far? Maybe, but this was different. Never before had there been a girl like Jane Carter mixed up in his life.

But it wasn't intuition that made him catch his breath a split second later. It was the man who sprinted from the apartment house.

Brad stepped hard on the accelerator. The car lurched forward but the man had disappeared into the alley by the time it stopped in front of the building. Brad heard the man's feet pounding the pavement, getting fainter and fainter. No use trying to catch him, he realized. Besides, there was Jane. . .

She had told him her apartment was 2-E. Now he dashed up the stairs, afraid of what he would find at the top.

The dim light in the hall showed one open door and he headed for it. That was 2-E. It had to be! He felt for a light switch, clicked it on.

"Jane!"

She didn't answer. Her limp form, sprawled face down before the fireplace, looked so helpless amid her upside-down possessions.

The few minutes it took to replace the studio couch cushions, carry Jane there, and call the doctor seemed like hours to Brad. She was so white and still. . . God, was she dead? The thought flitted through his mind like a flame, leaving all in its path withered and dead.

He rushed to the medicine cabinet in the bathroom, found camphor, and, pillowing Jane's head against his shoulder, held the bottle to her nose. After a few uneven breaths, she stirred.

"Jane?"

She opened her eyes then. Brad lowered her head to the pillows.

"You gave me a scare," he whispered.

Jane tried to sit up but the room started to move in wide circles so she lay back. She wished Brad would sit still. He seemed to be hopping up and down and going in circles like everything else.

"What happened, Jane?"

She shook her head. She didn't know what happened. Just that the world exploded in her face.

"He sure messed things up," Brad said. "This room looks like a cyclone had hit it."

Jane turned her head, wincing a little at the sudden pain. Brad was right. The room was a mess. It looked like Billingsley's office had looked. The drawers of her writing desk were spilling their papers onto the floor. Her Ming vase, the one article of value she possessed, was shattered in the corner. She shut her eyes, hiding the rest of it.

"Look in the other rooms."

"They're the same," he said a moment later. "Your friend knew his way around."

"Yes," Jane gave a short laugh.

"My friend, like Mr. Billingsley's."

Brad didn't say anything. Jane wondered what was going on behind those steady gray eyes. That was one thing about Brad Forrester, those eyes were like ice-cold curtains, hiding his thoughts. But Jane had an idea that they could mirror warmth—and love—too.

The doctor came then, opening the door without so much as a tap. He took in the scene at one quick glance and became very professional. Jane relaxed.

"Have you notified the police?"

He was talking to Brad now.

Brad nodded. "Just a prowler, in all probability."

Jane caught her breath sharply but neither of the men paid her any attention. The doctor was going. Brad accompanied him to the door.

"Take it easy for a while, Miss Carter," the doctor warned, returning the little card he had filled out to his vest pocket.

Jane nodded. When Brad closed the door and came to sit beside her, she sat up.

"Well?"

Brad chuckled. "Oh, that," he said. "Well, Janey, we can't have everyone in town in on this. I couldn't very well have told him about Billingsley and that letter, could I?"

"Of course not. I'm sorry, Brad."

Jane stared at the remains of the Ming vase. Damn, she thought, suddenly wanting to cry. Her father had brought her that case from one of his expeditions. He didn't come back from the next one.

"As for you, Janey," Brad was talking again, "where can you go for the rest of the night? You can't stay here, that's a cinch."

"Why not? He won't come back. I can lock my door."

Brad snorted. "You women," he chided. "Of all the foolish, crackpot ideas! What good would a lock do if they wanted to get in? I've seen those birds operate before."

A tiny smile tugged at Jane's lips. He was so earnest, so afraid for her.

"Well, there's Lucinda. She might . . ."

"Lucinda it is," he agreed. "Shall I call her while you get your things?"

"Right." Jane went into the bedroom, surprised that she was so steady.

Brad was waiting for her. She handed him the small overnight case.

"This is big, Janey," he said as he helped her into her coat. "Bigger than you think. And I can't tell you the truth—yet."

13-Year-Old Boy Dropped By Navy

Philadelphia, Sept. 21 (AP)—The Navy decided today that Apprentice Seaman Paul Linton—for the time being, at least—is going to have to sail all his boats in the family bath tub.

Linton has been kicked out of the Navy and told to come home and grow up. He's only 13.

The Fourth Naval district said the child left his parents' home here last month saying he was going to work on a farm. Instead, the Navy said, he enlisted, using an 18-year-old brother's birth certificate.

His mother, Mrs. Samuel Linton, got worried when no word came from him and asked the Fourth Naval district to help. The Navy said it has just found him in the Great Lakes Naval Training station. He'll be back in grammar school next week.

FIGHT TO DEFER FATHERS WAGES AT HEARINGS

Washington, Sept. 21 (AP)—With support for the measure apparently ebbing, Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) counted heavily today on Bernard M. Baruch to dent the solid military front against his proposal to defer the father draft.

Wheeler told reporters in advance of the scheduled resumption of hearings on the legislation that he expected Baruch to criticize the reported "hoarding" of workers by war industries. The Montanan contends this has done more to put family heads in line for induction next month than any other one factor.

Baruch made such a criticism in his recent report to War Mobilization Director James P. Byrnes. But at the same time he said it would be unwise to exempt fathers in essential occupations if it meant taking skilled workers from war industries.

The Senate Military committee voted yesterday to call Baruch as a witness on Wheeler's demand, but the time of his appearance remained in doubt. The Montana Senator said he would not ask for debate on his bill until Baruch had been heard, probably tomorrow afternoon.

Marshall's Statement
While Wheeler was inclined to discount its effect, the opposition voiced against his bill yesterday by Gen. George C. Marshall, Army chief of staff, and Admiral Ernest J. King, commander of the fleet, apparently damaged its chances of passage.

Marshall told the committee in effect that the Army just had arrived at a point where it is trained, equipped and prepared to deal deadly blows to the enemy all over the world. He insisted that nothing ought to be allowed to interfere with its planned increase in strength to 7,700,000 (including WACs) by the end of the year.

The chief of staff turned aside questions as to the drafting of fathers, contending that was an issue for Congress or the Selective Service to settle, but he made it clear that if the needed men could not be obtained elsewhere, fathers ought to be called. King backed up this viewpoint.

Continue Women's Golf Tournaments

Chicago, Sept. 21 (AP)—Plans are being made to continue in 1944 two of the country's biggest golf tournaments for women, the Western Open and Western Amateur.

Mrs. Charles Denney of Chicago, president of the Women's Western Golf association, said that the probable dates for the tournaments will be the last week in June and the second week in August.

Marine Patty Berg of Minneapolis was the Open Champion this year, and Dorothy Germain of Philadelphia won the Amateur Crown.

Checking Lewis's Use Of Gasoline

Alexandria, Va., Sept. 21 (AP)—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, has been requested by the Alexandria War Price and Rationing Board to furnish "a full and complete itinerary of the trip" the labor chief-tain made August 11 to Springfield, Ill.

The Richmond district office of Price Administration instructed the Alexandria board to investigate reports that Lewis violated OPA regulations by driving to the Illinois city.

Lewis was informed of the matter yesterday in a letter signed by J. S. Douglas, Jr., chief clerk of the Alexandria board, in which Lewis was asked to supply the information "at your earliest convenience."

The matter was reported to have come up when several persons protested to the Decatur, Ill., rationing board after reading an item in a Decatur newspaper to the effect that Lewis passed through that town enroute to Springfield to see his mother.

The warbler bird has been observed to eat 7,000 plant lice in 40 minutes.

SIR KINGSLEY WOOD EXPIRES

London, Sept. 21 (AP)—Sir Kingsley Wood, Chancellor of the Exchequer, died today.

The man who was credited largely with keeping Great Britain's wartime finance on an even keel died on the eve of the anticipated announcement of his pay-as-you-go plan for workers' income tax.

He was 62 years old.

Sir Kingsley has served as Chancellor of the Exchequer under Prime Minister Churchill since May 12, 1940, when he received the post in a cabinet shakeup.

On November 3, 1940, he was made a member of the War cabinet but was dropped from this inner circle in February, 1942, in another shake-up.

He has been a member of the same constituency since 1918 and in 1930 became chairman of the executive committee of the National Conservative and Unionist association—the Conservative party.

THE LEAST WE CAN DO FOR HIM— IS TO DO MORE IN SEPTEMBER!

Here's what YOU must do to Back the Attack

Now, as America goes all out for the invasion—your dollars must join the fight, too! For the very least you can do for your country—and for your loved ones doing the fighting—is to invest in MORE War Bonds in September.

Think of Jim fighting with Eisenhower . . . or Bill with MacArthur in the Solomons . . . or Bob up in Kiska. They've given their pledge to fight—and die if need be—for their country. They're ready to go all the way.

And we at home must see them through all the way, too! That means every individual in the country who earns a wage or draws an income or has accumulated funds must invest in at least one EXTRA $100 War Bond if he can possibly do so. Those who can, must invest more. This in addition to your regular War Bond subscription.

Yes, the least you can do for your men in service is to do more in September. MORE in the safest securities in the world—U. S. Government War Bonds. But do it now—it's for the INVASION!

NOW LET'S POUR FIFTEEN BILLION More
